ANNOUNCEMENTS.

COUNTY CLERK.

GILLILAND.—We are authorized to announce John R. Gilliland, of Hisey Precinct, Post-office a dress, St. Charles, a candidate for County Clerk, subject to the action of the republican party.

AGUINALDO and Bryan are again the "issue." Their days as "paramounts," may they be a thousand years.

THE TAGAL's prayer in these columns will be read with interest by those who have noticed Senator Tilman's Philippine Memorial and the Madisonville Hustler's editorial endorsement.

JUDGE CLIFTON J. PRATT, properly "Attorney General" Pratt, like Brer Rabbit, is "layin' low and sayin' nuthin'." But it may be well to listen for something to "drap" at such times. The people expect the Judge to ask for restoration of what they voted him and he will no doubt be heard from in good time.

EDITOR RICHARD W. KNOTT, of the Louisville Evening Post, who has recently been going after the corrupt municipal authorities and the gamblers of that city, and has incidentally criticised Judge Buckley of the city court, was visited in his office Monday by the irate Judge and denounced as a liar. Mr. Knott immediately went after his visitor in a warm fashion, but was restrained from thrashing him by a brawny livery-stable keeper whom the Judge had taken along for protection. Buckley was hustled out of the building in short order by the office force, who quickly gathered, but not until he had, apparently, attempted to draw a weapon.

THE Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh are to have a large traveling police force whose duty it will be to keep the trains and station buildings free from tramps. Police powers will be asked for these officials from the counties through which the system passes. And it will doubtless be granted, because such a plan successfully carried out would be a great relief to the people at large and to the municipalities through which the Pennsylvania lines run.

If all roads could adopt a like plan the life of the roving tramp would be robbed of a large part as its attractiveness. Walking is very much like work to the Weary Willies and a limited territory with no change of climate would prove rather discouraging.

EDITOR BRIGGS, of the Mayfield Monitor, says:

Editor, L. W. Gaines came near losing his life from heart disease brought on by a delinquent subscriber calling at the office of the Elkton Progress and paying three years' arrearages and two years in advance. Editor Richardson, of the Cynthiana Democrat, had an even narrower escape. A subscriber paid up one year's delinquency and paid for four years in advance.

Is it heart trouble that comes of such experiences? Then THE BEE will proceed to negotiate at once with a certain familiar and famous heart medicine manufacturer who demands top-of-column space and offers merchandise. Not long since a county subscriber paid nine dollars for nine years back subscription—and "continued." Only the other day another county subscriber came in and paid five dollars subscription—and "continued"—and said THE BEE was the best weekly paper in the State and that it ought to be two dollars a year instead of one. He was a farmer and was not a candidate. This didn't give us heart trouble but it was about as thrilling as Nikolo Tesla's Messages from Mars.

The Tagals or the Flag.

The leading editorial in the Madisonville Hustler this week is based upon a memorial presented by Senator Teller to Congress, which places Aguinaldo in the role of a George Washington and insults the American flag and the American people who have recently declared their unqualified endorsement of the Philippine policy. This memorial and its advocacy by Senator Teller, the most violent of all the "Antis," and the tacit endorsement of The Hustler, reminds us again of the man who was trying to uphold Mr. Bryan's Philippine ideas during the last campaign. He was cornered and his "arguments" exhausted. A bystander suggested that the American Flag would not be hauled down in the Philippines in November. He was angry, and in his haste exclaimed: "Oh, damn the Flag!"

The "Tagal's prayer," published in these columns, will throw some light on the attitude of the Bryan Democracy and its support of Aguinaldo, which fully corroborates the fateful prophecy of that great American general, Henry W. Lawton, who, a short time before his death, said that if he should be shot in battle his own countrymen, who were giving support to Aguinaldo and his followers, would be guilty of his death.

The Tagal's Prayer.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean published on Thursday the prayer which Ang Kaliwaganan (The Light), a native newspaper of Luzon, asked its readers to recite on last November 6.

After a preliminary meditation upon the weather and the importance of the American election, the Tagal editor directed all true believers to kneel and "recite the rosary" with such ejaculations as these:

"Open, Lord, our lips to curse and criticize the chosen President who may not be satisfactory to us. So be it, then, my God!

"Glory to Bryan; glory to our fostering fatherland; glory to the sons of the nation!

"Grief to imperialism; grief to McKinley; grief to his band!

"Curse, also, Lord, those who compel us to take oath!

"Mr. Bryan, mayst thou triumph!

"Celebrated Democracy, be thou supreme!

"Aguinaldo's life, may it be a thousand years!

"My place, may it be that of General!

"By thy mercy, Lord, curse them that guard us!

"All this, Lord, be it so!"

This prayer might have been addressed by a Hindoo thug to the blood-stained idol of Kali, or by a murderous Apache to his totem. It is difficult to believe that any man using it can be really a Christian. Yet Mr. Bryan still insists—and the Missouri legislature the other day resolved—that the Tagals ought to be let loose to govern themselves and their neighbors as they see fit.—Lexington Herald.

POLITICAL POINTS.

Somebody says David B. Hill is an avowed candidate for the Democratic nomination for President in 1904. He is a wise man and this report cannot be true. With William Jennings editor of an opposition paper how could he hope to win?

"Judge James P. Tarvin, of Covington says: "Mr. Bryan was defeated by good times and bad company, the most conspicuous factors in the latter regard being Croker and Mayor Harrison."

It is reported that McKenzie Moss is at home again, after a stay at Washington, and is confident that he will win his contest of Congressman's Rhea's re-election.

The bill to divide Kentucky into judicial districts seems to be on uncertain ground with prospects of being lost in a fog of amendments and contention between Senate and House.

Here is a case of "strange bed-fellows." It is announced that in Livingston county "the Hendrick Democrats and the Republican" will fuse to defeat the nominees of the recent Democratic primary.
